

Andreas Segerros

Partner

Sunstone Capital

Andreas Segerros joined the Sunstone Life Science Ventures team as partner in 2012 and focuses on therapeutics and drug delivery investments. Andreas has been working together with the Sunstone team since 2007 as a Venture Partner and has been serving as Chairman of the Sunstone Business Development Board, an external review group consisting of worldwide pharma executives, since its establishment in 2007. Prior to joining Sunstone Andreas held the position as Vice President, Global Business Development and Operations Planning at Ferring Pharmaceuticals.

Andreas has more than 20 years of commercial and development experience in the international pharma industry and has held a number of positions relating to strategic marketing and business development across Europe, the US and Japan. His extensive experience also includes negotiating and managing in-licensing and out-licensing deals, M&As, and formation of product and business strategies.

Andreas holds a Master's degree in Biotechnology and Biomaterials from the Royal Institute of Technology in Stockholm and an MBA from the University of Uppsala.