

Nanna Lüneborg

Principal

Novo Seeds

Nanna is a Principal with Novo Seeds, part of Novo A/S, where she works on early stage investment opportunities in life sciences throughout the Nordic region. Typical investments are startups from university or company spinouts. In addition to seed investment, she also evaluates pre-seed grants, which are given out on behalf of the Novo Nordisk foundation. These are unconditional grants to support commercialization of promising science.

Nanna joined Novo A/S in 2012 from the life science investment team of Apposite Capital, a London based healthcare VC fund. She holds a PhD in Neuroscience from UCL, an MBA from University of Cambridge, and a 1st class BA from University of Oxford.
